Ministry of Social Development and Human Security

Message From

the Director-General of the Department of Social Development and Welfare

All through the year 2011, the Department of Social Development and Welfare played a key role in social development and the systematization of social welfare service providing. This had subsequently resulted in achievements that further contributed to the improvement of the people's quality of life and social development in line with the department's main duties. Such duties involved social welfare development and the systematization of both institutional and community-based social welfare service providing with the aim to set the standard of forms, processes as well as the management. The duties also involved building and strengthening the process of participation with all sectors within society being encouraged to be involved in the provision of social development and welfare covering the area-wise, social-wise and group-wise dimensions. In addition to that, the department had the duty to analyze the government's policy, assess current social situation, formulate new projects/activities to be proposed to the government for top-level decision making and perform other tasks as designated by the government. In so doing, the department had made necessary adjustment to enable its work would proceed more smoothly and rapidly. The adjustment also helped the department to be well-prepared to deal with various social problems that emerged and be able to respond effectively to the government's policy especially when it concerned the social aspect of national agenda. To improve its work, four strategic issues were developed by the Department of Social Development and Welfare: developing the models and methods of social welfare service providing for the target groups, building the capacity of the target groups in making a living, promoting social welfare and social security for older persons, promoting the networking of social development and welfare organizations and promoting the principles of good governance in organization management.

In view of the work that had been carried out in the past, I am of the opinion that any success made was derived mainly from having personnel who were equipped with knowledge, ability, perseverance, patience, a sense of unity and cooperation to work towards common goals. We also had strong social-driven networks which always gave support and never failed to act relentlessly as partners in the promotion of the department's activities and services. As the Director-General of the Department of Social Development and Welfare, I would like to take this opportunity to express my most appreciation and gratitude to all personnel of the department and our networks from all sectors for their dedication and strong determination to perform their work with utmost understanding and caring for each other. This would further enhance the capacity of the department to render quality services and perform duties that will benefit Thai people, communities and society accordingly.

As far as Strategic Issue 5 was concerned, it involved promoting the application of good governance principles in organization management proceeded in the form of main and supporting activities that linked with Strategic Issues 1-4 such that the efficiency and set goal under the plan could be subsequently achieved. The results are as follows :

Strategic Issue 1: Developing the models and methods of social welfare service providing for the target groups

To promote the strategic issue of developing the models and methods of social welfare service providing for the target groups, the Department of Social Development and Welfare adopted the guideline involving the implementation of a project to provide social welfare services for the target groups which was connected with the Strategic Issue 1.

Strategic guideline: Promoting the development of social welfare service providing models and methods for the target groups

Major plan/project/activity: A project to provide social welfare services for the target groups

Output against target:

The output of the project was that the target population was provided with social welfare services. The main activity was the development of social welfare service providing models and methods for the target groups with the overall target of the activity covering the following 4 subjects and 4 subsequent results:

- 1) The formulation of an operational guideline to be used by agencies concerned for welfare protection of victims of domestic violence
- 2) The provision of welfare services by local administrative organizations for the target groups of older persons, persons with disabilities and the destitute
- 3) Welfare protection and assistance for street children
- 4) The development of a social development and welfare model along the line of the bond of family love

Outcome against target

Shelters for children and families and local administrative organizations had the models of providing standard institutional and community-based social welfare services for their target groups and were able to extend the models in the manner that was consistent and suitable with services for different target groups.

Strategic Issue 2 : Building the capacity of the target population in making a living

There were 4 strategic guidelines adopted by the Department of Social Development and Welfare to promote Strategic Issue 2 :

1. Increasing knowledge and suitable family environment for children and youth
2. Promoting and providing social welfare services for the target groups
3. Building the capacity of the target population in making a living
4. Strengthening the prevention and welfare protection for persons who are affected by social problems and prone to risks

Strategic guideline 1: Increasing knowledge and suitable family environment for children and youth

1.1 Major plan/project/activity: A project to increase knowledge and suitable family environment for children and youth

Strategic guideline: Promoting and supporting participation by local areas and communities in social development and social welfare service providing

Major plan/project/activity: A project on enhancing and developing the capacity of networks

Output against target

The output was the result of project implementing on enhancing and developing the capacity of networks. There were totally 993 networks that were involved in activities or 100.00 % of the set target of 993 networks. Three key activities were implemented of which the details are as follows:

Key Activity 1: Building networks at Tambon (sub-district) level –

Networks were built in 288 sub-districts as compared to the set target of 288 sub-districts. People in the target areas, social development organizations, volunteers, local administration organizations and concerned agencies were encouraged and given support to form themselves into a group of social development and welfare organizations with a systematic linkage being maintained with local administrative organizations. The process included selecting target area/tambon, planning, coordinating for the implementation of plans that had been formulated, organizing community forums with focus being on tambon social development and welfare and workshops for plan/project preparation by networks and conducting regular follow-up. The promotion of these activities had resulted in the ability of the population in each target area to gain greater access to more thoroughly provided social development and welfare services to the extent that the social development and human security networks at tambon level were eventually established according to the set target.

Key Activity 2: Developing a working mechanism among networks –

Activities implemented under this Key Activity included developing a strong and continuous working mechanism at amphoe (district) level for smooth coordination, maintaining linkages, promoting the integration of services and exchange of experiences among social development and human security networks at tambon (sub-district) level. The working mechanism at district level was strengthened and involved a process comprising selection of target area, planning coordination for the organizing of a community forum with focus being on tambon social development and welfare, a workshop to integrate plans developed by networks and conclusion of lessons learned about the amphoe or district mechanism. The activities were carried out in 75 districts as compared to the set target of 75 districts.

Key Activity 3 : Monitoring and developing the capacity of networks – The capacity of networks was developed in 288 tambons as compared to the set target of 288 tambons. The activity involved monitoring and strengthening the roles of social development and human security networks at tambon or sub-district level such that they could form the relationship both horizontally and vertically, promoting linkages both internally and externally and developing the capacity of networks to proceed continuously with the implementation of activities relating to social development and welfare which were accepted by local communities/ areas. The details are as follows:

- Developing the capacity of networks – An action plan to enhance the capacity of networks was prepared and subsequently implemented. Support was further given for work as performed by networks and for supervision to monitor their work.

- Conducting an assessment of the potential level of networks – An instrument was used to assess the potential level of networks involving a questionnaire concerning the work of social development and human security networks at tambon (sub-district) level. Each network would conduct self-assessment based on questions in the questionnaire. The answers were then processed and classified into 5 groups: The group of networks with exceptionally high potential, the group of networks with high potential, the group of networks with moderate potential, the group of networks with little potential and the group of networks with low potential.

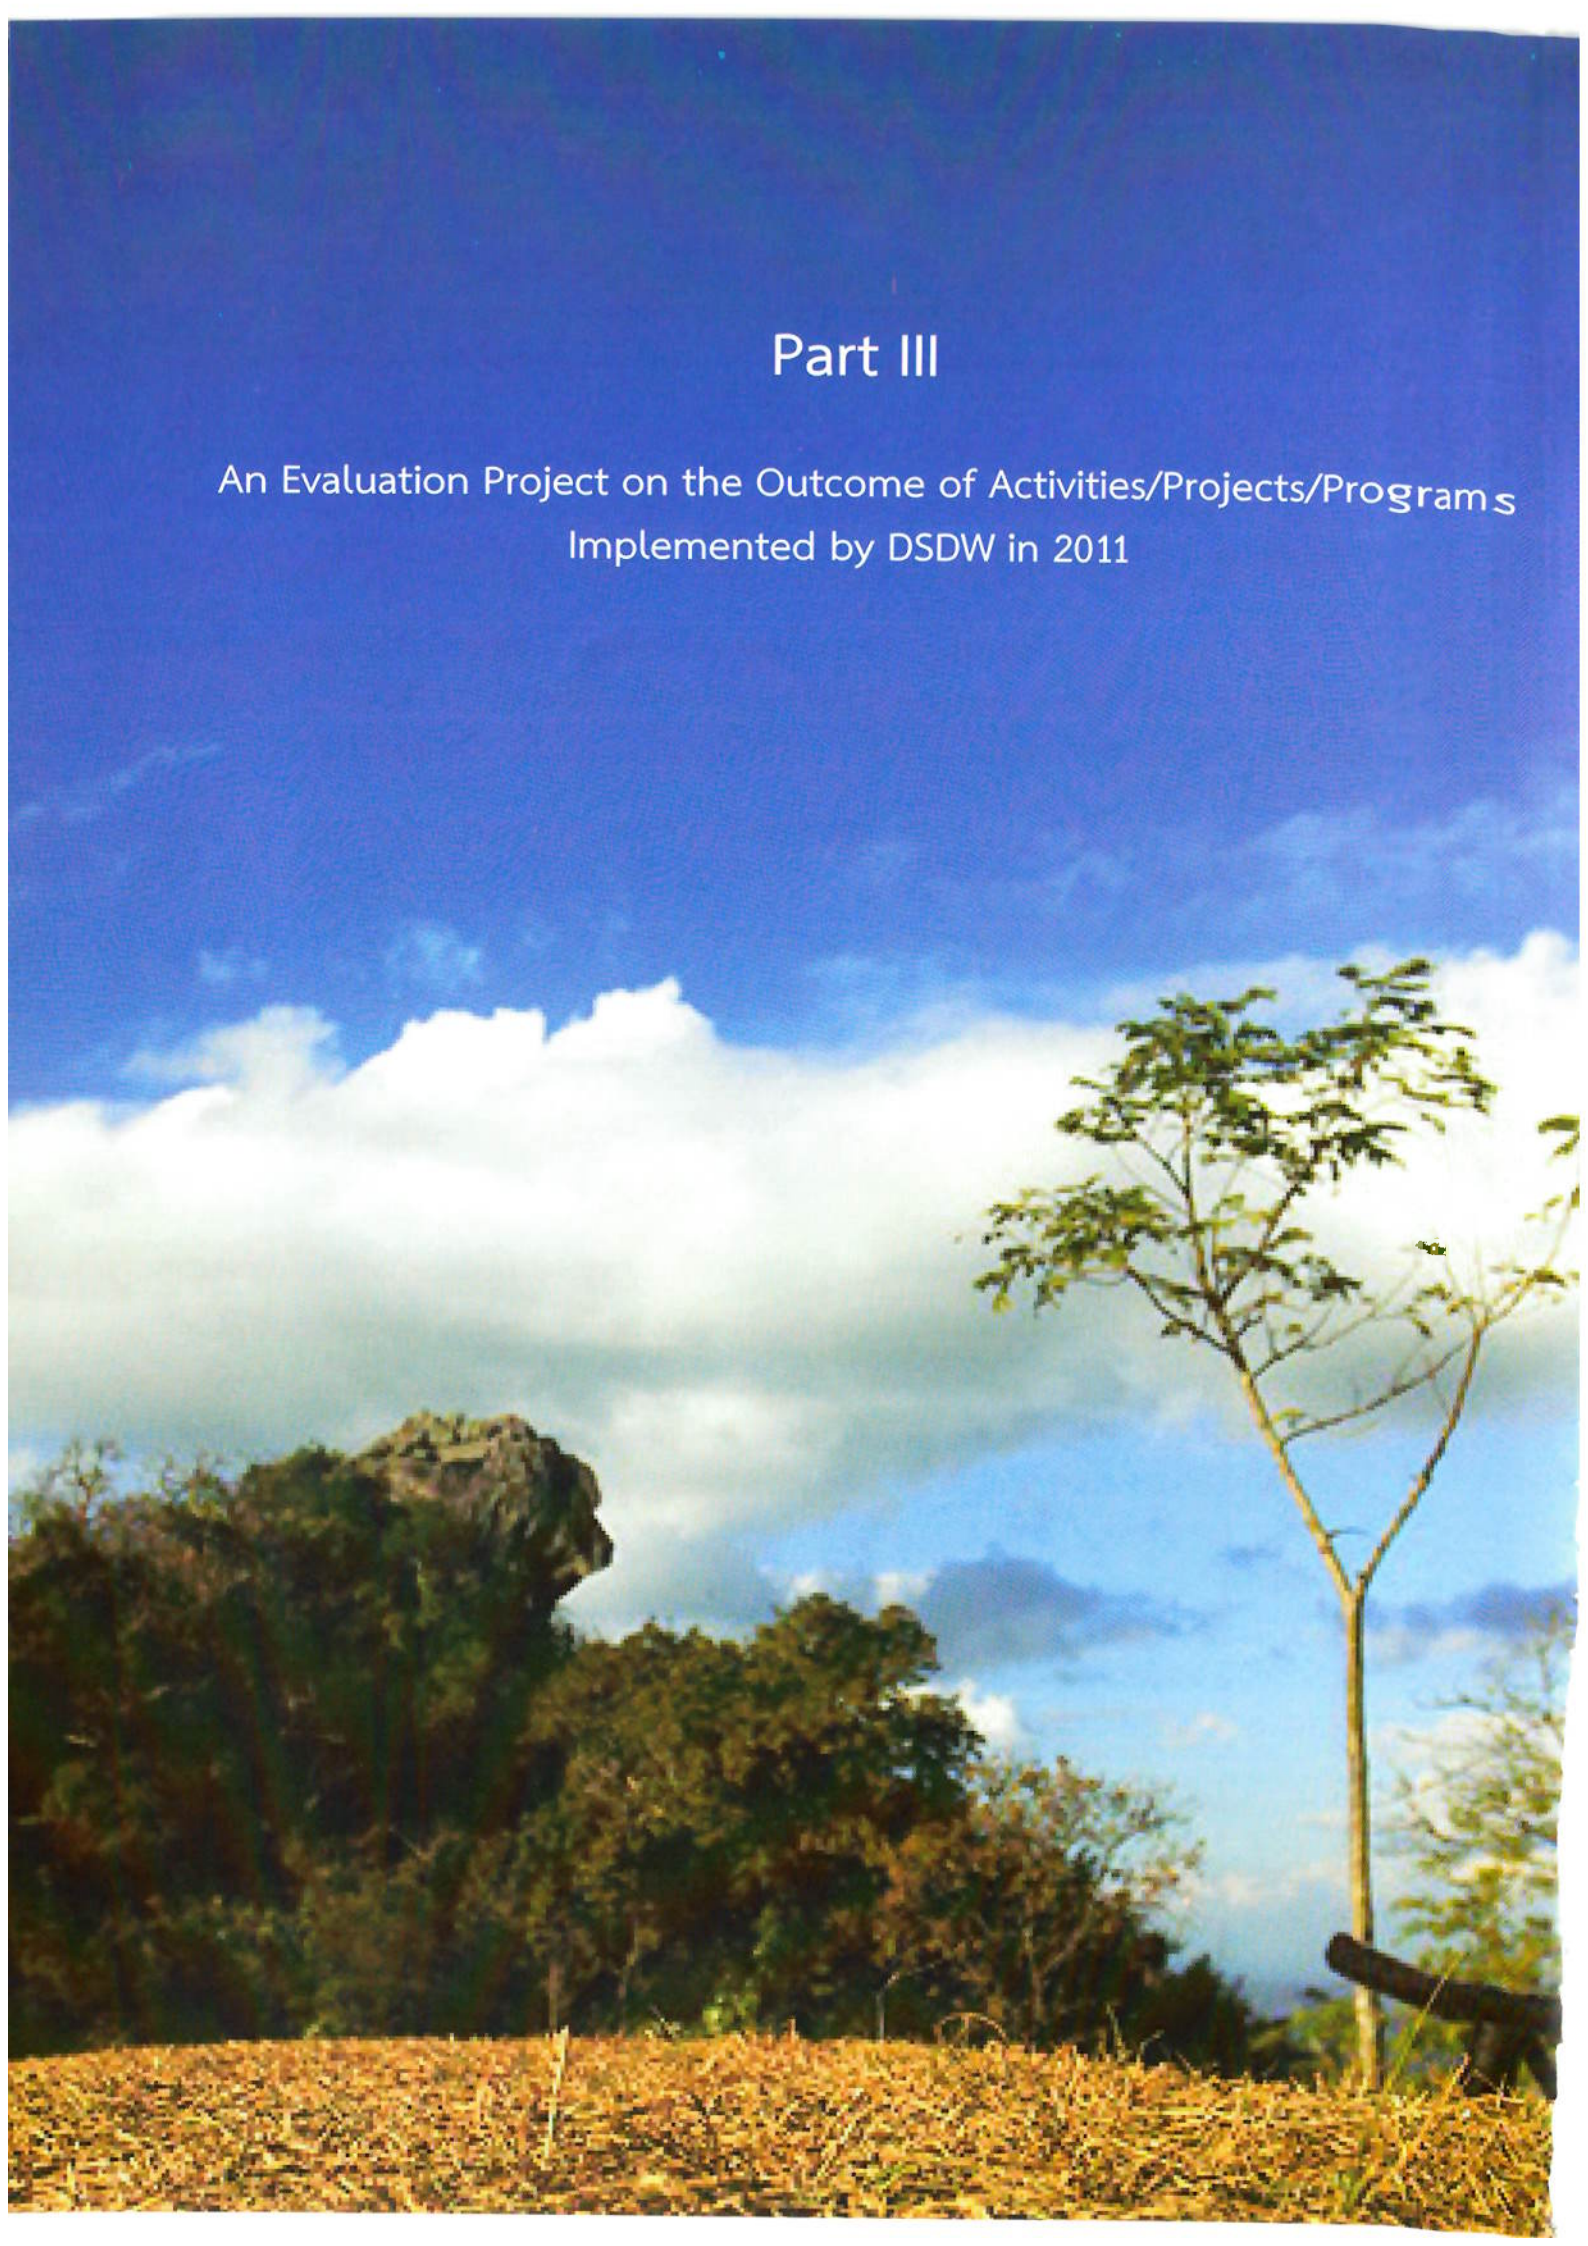

Key Activity 4 : Promoting the form of social welfare service providing among networks – There were 342 networks involved as compared to the set target of 342 networks. Activities included technical promotion, provision of advice, recommendations and support to ensure that the form of social welfare service providing which was suitable with and responded to the needs of the people would be developed.

1.3 Outcome against target

The networks at tambon-level had more capacity to perform the supporting role of social development and welfare service providing in areas of the target groups more effectively.
